SCOTTISH ALE 16 OZ. CANS TO GO $2.50 each or $9.95/4 pack

STANDARD BEERS $2.50-glass, $3.75-pint, $12.00-pitcher

Clackamas Cream Ale - Light colored, light bodied, thirst quenching beer. Reminds you of a steam beer. OG=1.044 / FG=1.008 / 15-IBUs / 4.6 % alcohol

Scottish Ale – From beer novice to beer geek, everyone loves this beer! Scottish brewers traditionally do not use a lot of hops in their beers. This is a caramel-malty beer with a slightly nutty-roasty component. OG=1.055 / FG=1.015 / 30-IBUs / 5.3% alcohol

Loki Red Ale: Named for the Norse god Loki, the Trickster. A high spirited beer that is a bit on the sneaky side, just like ol' Loki. A generous helping of Tomahawk and Galena hops with a distinct English brown malt background. Those of you who have trouble choosing between the richer, malty ales and the bitter IPAs may find nirvana in this beer. OG= 1.060 / FG= 1.014 / 48-IBUs / 6% alcohol (from Sept.24)

Porter – A traditional Porter should have a caramel roasty malt presence, but maintain a mellow character. This one won't assault you. If you like dark beers but not the charcoal aftertaste, try this one! OG=1.058 / FG=1.018 / 24-IBUs / 5.3% alcohol

PREMIUM BEERS $2.75-glass, $4.00-pint, $14.00-pitcher

India Pale Ale (IPA) - This style features a very pronounced hop bitterness, flavor and aroma. Malt backbone is present but definitely plays a minor role to the Simcoe, Galena, Columbus, Perle and Cascade hops. OG= 1.052 / FG= 1.006 / 98-IBU's / 5.6% alcohol

Fall Seasonal: Strong Scotch Ale - A huge malty beer. This beer is an autumn weather warmer for sure! Hops are subdued in this style. A nutty slightly roasty finish is the hallmark. Brewed in the traditional Strong Scotch style. OG=1.078 / FG=1.010 / 40-IBUs / 9% alcohol (available for a limited time)

Our Story:

Welcome to our brewery. We are honored that you are here. Our hope is that you will find it a relaxing, fun place, with some of the best beer in the Northwest.

About 10 years ago Ken Johnson, the owner of Fearless Brewing Company, owned an engine parts distribution warehouse. He was pretty obsessed about the business and worked all of the time. For Christmas one year, his wife, Bennett, bought him a home brewing kit in an attempt to provide him with a distraction. Ken took to the hobby readily, which quickly became a new obsession.

Ken began entering beer competitions, and soon he was winning awards, including the Masters Championship of Amateur Brewing. Ken and Bennett took this as a sign. They sold the automotive business and opened Fearless Brewing Company in June, 2003. Today Fearless Beers are distributed commercially around Oregon with plans to expand that territory soon. Thanks for coming. We hope to see you again soon.
